Ideas and Inspirations for the entertainment and safety of the gay traveler

By Grady Harp

The Bruno Gmünder Media Group was founded in 1981 in Berlin. In addition to offering an up to date set of information of important spots around the world that are gay-friendly, they have compiled data about which countries are the better sites to visit based on whether or not they are accepting of same sex lifestyle. The figures are surprising. The international travel guide for the gay community, which has been published on an annual basis for the last 40 + years, informs its readers about the legal situation for gays and lesbians in each of the 135 countries listed in the guide. The editorial staff stands in regular contact with the Foreign Office, the foreign embassies in Germany as well as LGBT- (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Trans-gender) activists from around the world.

In this updated 2016 guide author Briand Bedford is at the helm and presents around 21,000 listed entries of interest to gay men from over 135 countries worldwide on 1,024 pages. From hotels in Palm Springs, bars in Hong Kong or a clubs in Buenos Aires - no other travel guide offers such extensive information regarding locations where gay men are welcome and where they can be themselves. Each country is described in a detailed introductory text, which includes the legal and social situation for gay men as well as unique cultural characteristics of the country. Current information compact and at your finger tips.

For the eager traveler this is an indispensable guide for the finest in tourist spots that are gay friendly. Grady Harp, May 16
